

29 JULY 2018

The Observer Magazine

Summer in the city

Bright, fun, sassy:
how to work the new urban look

What to pack for a holiday Tasty breaks for food lovers

Plus, the rise of the robot doctors

Beauty Notebook

The 'whoops, my eye liner slipped' look

Words EVA WISEMAN

At Eudon Choi, imperfection was encouraged. Eyeliner was jagged and bonkers, inspired by the idea of "an aristocratic woman who spends her summertime in her house by the sea while painting". Which sounds rather lovely, doesn't it? She applies her liner in the car, as it "goes over a pebble". Though you can achieve the same effect simply by adding a little flourish in front of your bathroom mirror. Embrace the wobble.

1. Trish McEvoy Liquid Liner £38, libertylondon.com
2. Revlon ColorStay £8.99, superdrug.com
3. Always On liquid Liner £19, smashbox.co.uk
4. Brush Stroke Liner £18.50, maccosmetics.co.uk
5. Christian Louboutin £58, selfridges.com
6. Lash FX Liquid Liner £7.95, lash-fx.com
7. Chantecaille Le Stylo £28, spacenk.com
8. Fenty Beauty £17, harveynichols.com
9. Waterproof Liquid Liner £28, hourglasscosmetics.com
10. Kevyn Aucoin Liquid Liner £28, net-a-porter.com
11. Guerlain Liquid Liner £27.45, debenhams.com
12. Long Wear Liner £24.50, bobbbibrown.co.uk

Beauty spot

What's new on the counter...

Heaven scent

Sana Jardin claims to be 'the world's first socially conscious luxury fragrance house' - they empower low-income women in Morocco through commerce, and the packaging is from recycled materials. Plus, each of their seven scents smells a-mazing (sanajardin.com)

Hair today

At the Vivienne Westwood AW18 show, Sam McKnight brushed a rainbow of colour on to models' hair. You can do the same, with L'Oréal Professionnel Flash Pro Hair Makeup, which washes off in the shower.

Chew and tan

UTAN & Tone are a brand dedicated to changing the way we self-tan. As well as tanning water and a 'blending creme' for corrections, they've developed Tan Gummies, designed to be more powerful than traditional tan supplements - and far tastier, too.

Face time

Pep up your skin - and your day - with a face brush. By Gemma Cairney

Twitter @gemcairn

Are you likely to be rolling around in dirt anytime soon? Any festivals, or gin-in-tin-fuelled afternoons of rounders at your local common? BBQs on your decking? Or perhaps you are simply prone, like me, to a grimy forehead in the heat.

Then let me introduce you to the god-like Clarisonic brush. It has interchangeable 'brush heads' and you can alternate between two speeds - and it's rechargeable. Think a fancy electric toothbrush, but for your face.

It's not my cheapest recommendation, but in my experience once a Clarisonic brush is in your beauty booty, you don't need to spend zillions on face scrubs or washes for ever more. Because even the simplest bars of soap (handy if you're trying to cut down on disposable plastic use) work sufficiently when used with one of these.

I have noticed fewer breakouts and a more even skin tone since I started using one. There's also something madly satisfying about massaging your cheeks hypnotically to the whirring sound of bristles - especially when knackered.

It's a peculiarly enlivening experience. Now let's go get dirty! Clarisonic Mia 2, £89 (current body.com)

